Pro-Red Prince Orders Rebels to Withdraw

By ANTOINE YARED

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Prince Souvanna Phouma has ordered pro-Communist Prince Souphanouvong to withdraw his Pathet Lao troops from Nam Tha and Muang Sing to behind the original cease-fire line, informed diplomatic sources said today.

The informant said the neutralist leader sent a cable from France to Souphanouvong, his half-brother and ally, denouncing the seizure of the two government outposts in northwest Laos as a violation of the year-old cease-fire.

Souvanna, the Soviet and American choice to head a neutralist regime in the jungle kingdom, reportedly also cabled his acting premier, Phagna Khamsoukeola, at rebel headquarters at Khang Kays to arrange for the withdrawal of the pro-Communist troops.

Souvanna left for Paris five weeks ago to stay until June 1 for medical treatment and the wedding of a daughter. He told French newsmen Wednesday night he was prepared to return to Laos any time Prince Boun Oum's right-wing regime formally requests resumption of talks on formation of a coalition government of Communists, conservatives and neutralists.

Souphanouvong's pro-Communist rebels also were reported ready to return to unity talks. Gen. Phoumi Nosavan, deputy premier and strongman of the royal Laotian government, said despite the Pathet Lao attacks, he still was ready to negotiate. But he demanded that Souvanna first return to Laos and give assurances that he is truly neutral.

Before his departure for France, Souvanna publicly pledged that his neutralist and pro-Communist troops would not attack unless they were themselves attacked. He told French newsmen that he believed Nam Tha "was not attacked deliberately" but that royal government forces in trying to break the rebel siege of the provincial capital might have provoked the assault last weekend.

Souvanna has the support of the United States, the Soviet Union and other big powers at the 14-nation Geneva conference on Laos. But Boun Oum and Phoumi have balked at joining a government under Souvanna, contending he is not strong enough to prevent the pro-Communist forces from leading Laos into the Red orbit.

President Kennedy told his news conference in Washington Wednesday that the rebel advances were "a clear breach of the cease-fire." But he said such incidents can be expected to continue as long as the political talks drag on inconclusively.

Hope Group at Auxiliary Conference

Springfield, Mass., National President of the American Legion Auxiliary is a guest at the annual Department Rehabilitation Conference at the North Little Rock Veterans Administration Hospital Thursday, May 10.

The conference began at 10 a. m. with Mrs. Doyle Daniel of Hot Springs, Department (State) Rehabilitation chairman, presiding. Other official guests are Mrs. O. M. Attaway of El Dorado, National Vice President of the Southern Division; Mrs. Leon Reed of Heber Springs, Department President; Mrs. E. F. Formby of Hope, National Executive Committee Woman.

Mrs. Formby introduced Mrs. McKay at the Thursday luncheon and she also addressed the group at that time. The National Committee Woman is one of several representatives of the Leslie Huddleston Unit 12 of Hope. Others are Mrs. Joe Jones and daughter, Cookie, and Mrs. Charles Taylor.

Electrical Area Exchange Okayed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The State Public Service Commission approved today a small exchange of electric territory in Ashley and Union counties.

The Ashley-Chicot Electric Cooperative will take some territory it is now serving in Union County from Arkansas Power and Light Co. and give AP&L some Ashley County territory which the private utility has been serving.

The utilities agreed to the exchange.

No Progress on Bill to Revise Taxes

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration's appeal to the Senate Finance Committee for favorable action on its tax revision bill ends today where it began more than a month ago—with a plea from Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon.

More than 200 witnesses have been before the committee since Dillon made his first plea April 2 for tax withholding on dividends and interest. As he returns he will find this provision—and several others—in serious trouble.

In an effort to muster support for the measure, President Kennedy opened his news conference Wednesday with a lengthy statement that he said would set the record straight on his withholding plan.

He declared the government would collect taxes on dividends and interest the same way it has collected on wages and salaries for years. Evaders would be adversely affected if the bill became law, he said.

Democratic leaders had urged the President to make such a statement. They said today they were strongly hopeful his presentation would stem the tremendous tide of mail running against the withholding plan—and perhaps reverse it.

This deluge of letters—some senators have received many thousands—has caused even strong administration supporters to have second thoughts.

Some who still intend to vote for it say that many of the writers are badly misinformed.

Finance Committee Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., told a reporter after Kennedy's statement that he was keeping an open mind on the provision. But he has expressed serious doubts about hardships it might cause.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., senior Republican on the committee, said in a separate interview he would hear Dillon's testimony before making a final decision. But he said he would not vote for it unless he was satisfied it was administratively workable.

Opponents of the provision argued in the long hearings it would cause severe hardships for old persons who live on dividend and interest income.

Corporations and savings institutions insisted that it would impose a heavy administration burden on them.

The President said advertising by savings and loans, banks and others had led some persons to believe a new tax was being proposed, instead of a different method of collecting one now due.

Erwin Rites to Be Held Today

Marvin P. Erwin, 84, a longtime resident of this area, died Wednesday in a Nashville hospital. He was a retired Hempstead farmer and member of the Forest Hill Baptist Church near Hope.

Survivors include a son, Joe of Hope and a daughter, Mrs. Inez Ward of Hope, one sister, Mrs. Frank Arnett of Emmet.

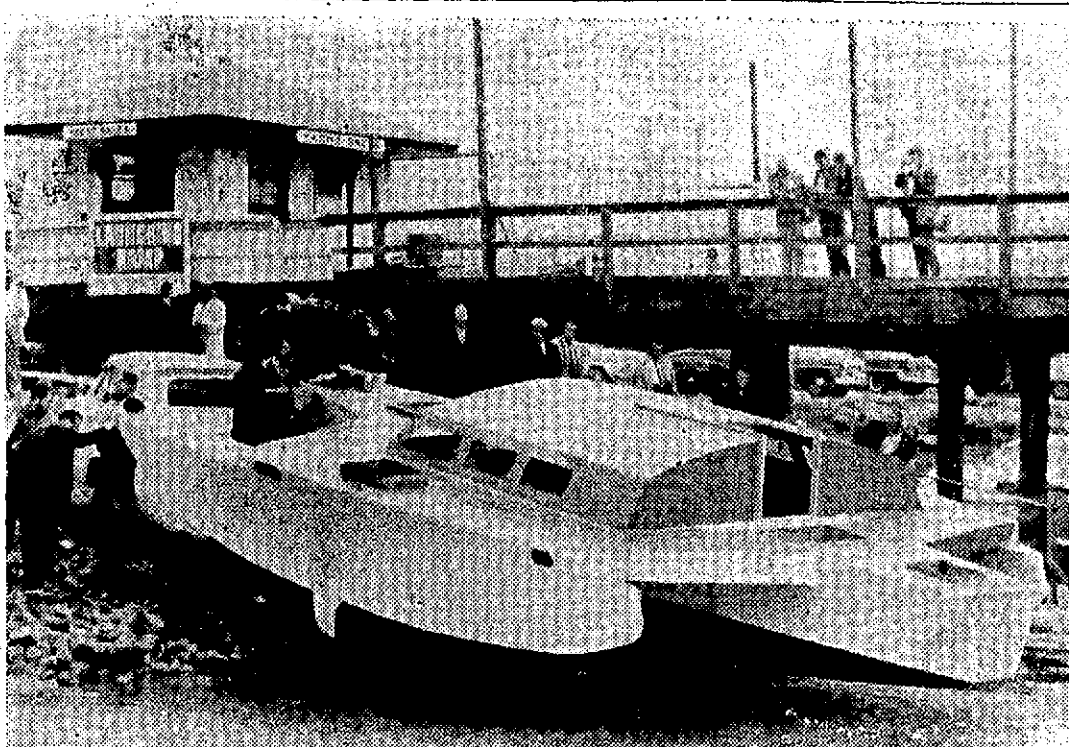

Services will be held at 4 p. m. Thursday at Herndon-Cornelius Funeral Chapel by the Rev. Clarence Ross and the Rev. Norman Grant. Burial will be in Old Union Cemetery.

Mrs. Choate, 78, Dies Today at Patmos

Mrs. Bettie Choate, aged 78, a lifelong resident of Hempstead County, died today at the home of a sister, Mrs. John Smith at Patmos.

She is also survived by another sister, Mrs. Delilah Smith of Fouke, Ark.

Services will be held at 10:30 a. m. Friday at Sardis Cemetery by the Rev. A. C. Kirby. Burial by Herndon-Cornelius will be in Sardis Cemetery.

Hitchhikers Arraigned for Robbery

PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP) — Two Missouri hitchhikers face arraignment Monday on charges of kidnapping and robbery in connection with the reported holdup of a man who gave them a ride Sunday.

Willie Foster, 17, of Senatobia, Mo., and Max William Leach, 21, of Cardwell, Mo., were held in the Greene County jail in lieu of $5,000 bond each.

Deputy Prosecutor Howard Mayes said they were arrested at a roadblock at Bucoda, Mo., about five hours after Ernie (Junior) Gee of Paragould said two men took his car at gunpoint near Paragould.

Greer said he picked up the hitchhikers and one pulled a pistol. He said they drove to a country road, threatening to kill him, and forced him out of the car.

"Greer did a lot of persuasive talking," Mayes said. "He convinced them that he wouldn't squawk if they brought him back to Paragould."

Mayes quoted Greer as saying the men finally told him, "You look like a good boy, I guess we can take a chance on you." Then, Greer said, they brought him back to Paragould and let him out. He reported the incident to police immediately, Mayes said.

Foster and Leach waived extradition in a hearing before a Kenneth, Mo., magistrate Monday and were returned to Paragould. The charges were filed in Circuit Court later, Mayes said.

Sleeping Sickness Mosquito Suspected

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — A hardly mosquito that comes on silent wings and bites painlessly is the No. 1 suspect as the carrier of the sleeping sickness virus in Florida.

Unfortunately, his identity isn't known.

This was brought out Wednesday as about 100 Florida doctors, nurses and sanitarians met to discuss encephalitis—the mysterious ailment commonly called sleeping sickness in humans blind staggers in horses.

The disease has been on the upswing in Florida in recent years. An outbreak in the Tampa Bay area last fall struck 25 humans, seven of whom died.

Couple Will Again Try to Reach Texas

By HAL COOPER

LONDON (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Wood took off gamely again today for New York and Corpus Christi, Tex., after arriving in London on a transatlantic jetliner they thought was bound for Texas.

It was their third Atlantic crossing in a week, and the Lone Star State was still a long way off.

But they said they were confident they would make it this time — if they don't wind up in Buenos Aires.

Charlie, 65, a retired janitor from the British Ford plant in Dagenham, told the tale to newsmen at London airport.

"We had been in the air out of Idlewild Airport for about an hour when I turned to an American gentleman in the next seat and asked 'And where in Texas are you flying to?'" Charlie said.

"Texas," says he. "I'm going to London."

"By way of Dallas?" says I. And he looks puzzled and says, "no, it's a direct flight."

"Cricket!" says I to my wife. "We're going the wrong way!" Agitated Marie Wood, 62, called the stewardess.

"I told her," said Mrs. Wood, "that something had gone slightly amiss."

"Oh, dear me," said the girl, and she rushed up to tell the pilot.

"He came right back and said, 'Well, don't you worry. We'll message ahead to London and get you on the next plane to America.'"

"Of course, we had to laugh when we got over the shock. It was just plain dotty of us."

The Woods left Southampton on the Queen Mary last Thursday to visit Mrs. Wood's sister, Kitty Kassis of Corpus Christi. They had an uneventful crossing to New York.

FBI Poster Leads to Man's Arrest

POCAHONTAS, Ark. (AP) — A wanted poster placed in the post office here last week resulted in the arrest of a 49-year-old South Dakotan, the Federal Bureau of Investigation said Wednesday.

Roy K. Moore, special agent in charge of the Little Rock office of the FBI said Cecil Marvin Hurt had been living at Maynard, Ark., near here, posing as a farmer.

He was arrested Wednesday on a charge of interstate transportation of stolen property. Moore said, after Pocahontas residents recognized the picture and tipped authorities to his whereabouts. The arrest was made by Sheriff Bill Ruppert of Pocahontas and state trooper Sgt. H. K. Bean, Moore said.

Moore said Hurt is accused of transporting $6,000 gained by fraud from Rudolph Lindner of Fingal, N. D., from Valley City, N. D. to Aberdeen, S. D., March 3, 1960.

He is also charged, Moore said, with mail fraud on Jan. 4, 1960, in using the mails to defraud Agnes, Rudolph and Alfred Lindner, all of Fingal, of money in a business scheme.

Moore said Hurt, a native of Morehouse, Mo., had a criminal record dating back to 1922, including convictions of violation of the dye act, larceny, confidence games and interstate transportation of a stolen airplane.

Effort Made to Restore Unity Over Berlin

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — In an effort to restore Allied harmony, the United States is reported seeking full clarification from the West German government of its stand on exploratory talks with the Soviet Union about terms of an East-West agreement on Berlin.

President Kennedy also made clear at a news conference Wednesday that he wants to see secrecy restored to Allied consultations on proposals put to the Soviet government during the talks. He seemed to be asking Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in a diplomatic way to stop debating the issues in public.

Other officials said there is considerable confusion here over what Adenauer is driving at. His public criticism of the U.S.-Soviet discussions is out of line with West German views communicated through official channels, they said.

Kennedy underlook at his news conference to play down reports of Allied differences over the talks.

He noted that Adenauer had said in Berlin earlier this week that he was not optimistic about the outcome.

The United States has never been unduly optimistic about achieving an East-West agreement, the President said, but "we believe there should be a continuation of these talks."

He conceded differences over details of how such an organization could be set up but said such differences are quite natural.

Adenauer said in Berlin this week that the authority proposal is unworkable. He also said he thought the talks would come to nothing, and he suggested it was dangerous for them to go on indefinitely without results.

The chancellor is known to object to a provision in the authority proposal that would give East Berlin and East Germany membership on the 13-nation authority. He is strenuously opposed to any agreement with the Soviet Union which in his view would afford a degree of recognition to the East German communist regime.

Nuclear Sub, Freighter Collide

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A nuclear-powered submarine and a freighter collided 30 miles west of here Wednesday night. The submarine was on its way to San Francisco bay under its own power today, followed by the freighter.

Due to be commissioned in less than three weeks, the sleek submarine, only nine months old, was escorted by a Navy tugboat toward its home base.

No injuries were reported among 137 crewmen on the two vessels.

The 12,000-ton freighter also proceeded into port without assistance.

AP&L Head, Canady, Dies at 57

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Paul O. Canady, president of Arkansas Power and Light Co., for the past two years, died in a Little Rock hospital today, victim of a cerebral hemorrhage. He was 57.

Canady was stricken May 5 at his home. He lapsed into a coma shortly after arrival at the hospital.

Although Canady had 37 years experience in the light and power industry, his career with AP&L was brief. He joined the firm as executive vice president in June 1958, and was elevated to the presidency in May 1960.

Canady was a native of Henry, Tenn., and he attended public school at Henderson, Tenn. He was graduated from the University of Tennessee in 1926 and joined the Tennessee Public Service Co. In 1938, Canady became associated with Ebasco Services, Inc., in New York and later he became an official of Electric Power and Light Corp.

Canady joined Middle South Utilities, AP&L's parent firm, in 1949. He rose to executive vice president of Middle South before he moved to AP&L.

He was AP&L's fourth president. No successor has been named.

Survivors include his widow, Mary, of Little Rock and two daughters, Mary Jane, a senior nursing student at the University Medical Center, and Betty Anne, a sophomore at the University of Arkansas. His mother, Mrs. Eliza O. Canady, lives at Henderson, Tenn.

The family asked that no flowers be sent and announced the establishment of the Paul O. Canady Memorial Fund. Contributions may be made to the dean of students at the University of Arkansas Medical Center in Little Rock.

Another Try to Orbit Satellite Ends in Failure

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — An attempt to launch a flashing light geosynchronous satellite into orbit failed today when the second stage of the launching vehicle did not ignite.

If successful, the satellite would have helped make more accurate maps of the world.

The 355-pound payload was propelled aloft at 7:06 a. m. by a Thor-Able-Star rocket. The early portion of flight appeared normal as the 79-foot-tall booster streaked swiftly from sight.

However, the Defense Department announced about 20 minutes later that preliminary telemetry reports indicate that the Anna satellite had failed to go into orbit. The second-stage ignition was not achieved, it said.

The announcement said records of radio signals from the vehicle were being studied to determine the exact cause of the failure.

Official name of the satellite, Anna, combining the initials of the Army, Navy, National Aeronautics and Space Administration and Air Force, the participating agencies.

The "firefly" nickname derives from four high-intensity xenon gas lights designed to wink on and off at designated times in a space-age mapping experiment.

The flashing beacons—difficult to locate with the naked eye—plus other precise radio, navigation and tracking gear, were to help ground stations calculate with high precision distances on the globe and the general shape of the earth's surface.

The blinking lights, with a brilliance of eight million candle power, were not intended to be triggered initially until about three days after launching. This would give trackers time to determine the satellite's orbital path before conducting any experiments.

The Defense Department took the unusual move Wednesday of announcing that the attempt to launch the satellite would be made today. This was to allow scientists around the world to make observations of the flashing beacons and share in the satellite's measuring.

Zoning Plan Expected to Be Approved

Public hearing on a proposed zoning ordinance at City Hall last night was well attended, the court room being almost full. As a result of this session the Planning Commission will submit the ordinance to the City Board of Directors for approval at the next meeting.

Pros and cons of the ordinance were discussed at length last night along with some outright objections. But as a whole the measure met with general approval. Some suggestions will be taken into consideration by the Commission.

The ordinance designated three different types of residential areas and sets out certain areas that are zoned for industrial use. The plan is the result of two years work by the nine-member group.

It sets up various lot sizes for certain types of housing and regulates all building and construction. Any future construction will have to meet with the rules and regulations of the Zoning Commission. Present construction will not be affected.

The ordinance now goes before the Board of City Directors where passage is expected to be a mere formality.

Dentist Free on $10,000 Bond

NOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Dr. Whit Terrell, a dentist charged with first degree murder, is free on $20,000 bond.

He made bond Wednesday after a habeas corpus hearing, in which he testified that he shot Otis Howell, 56-year-old printer, May 2, in self defense.

Circuit Judge P. E. Dobbs set the bond.

and the American Legion.

I represented Miller County in the State Legislature in 1955 and 1956. In January, 1957 I was appointed Deputy Prosecuting Attorney in Miller County and have served as Deputy Prosecuting Attorney for the Eighth Judicial District since that time. Although my primary responsibilities have been in Miller County, I have been called upon by citizens and law enforcement officials for advice and assistance in the investigation and trial of criminal matters in the other counties of this district. During the past six years it has been my duty to investigate and try the majority of crimes on our statute books. It has been, and will continue to be, my policy to fully investigate all alleged offenses to determine whether or not a person accused of a crime actually committed an offense against the State of Arkansas before that person is subjected to the humiliation and expense of a trial. I have conducted myself in this manner for the simple reason that it is the duty of the Prosecuting Attorney's office to protect the innocent, as well as to prosecute the guilty.

The Prosecuting Attorney is the legal advisor for each county office in the district. That includes the Health Department, Welfare Department as well as the elected offices of each county. During the period of time that I have served as Deputy Prosecuting Attorney, my record will reflect that I have realized the full responsibility of the duties of the Prosecuting Attorney's office and have cooperated with the elected officials in each county. Upon assuming the office of Prosecuting Attorney, I will cooperate with your county officials, whenever you may elect, for without the full cooperation of all your officials, this great system of Government cannot and will not prevail.

Approximately one half of the criminal work of the Prosecuting Attorney's office is in Miller County, yet a Miller County resident has not been elected Prosecuting Attorney since before 1900. Your Prosecuting Attorney is subject to call 24 hours a day, 7 days a week and when elected your Prosecuting Attorney, I will be available to receive your calls. The doors of my office will continue to be open to you, the people of this judicial district, to render untiring service to the people and not to a small clique or machine. Your earnest consideration of my background, training, experience and candidacy will be greatly appreciated.

Respectively,
John W. Goodson

Ouachita Defeats A&M Tracksters

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP) — Ouachita Baptist College downed Arkansas A&M 69-58 in a track meet here Wednesday.

Both teams took eight first places in the dual meet. Deciding factor was the eight second places garnered by Ouachita and the four relegated to the Aggies.

Glen Dale Wilson, who took first place in both hurdles events, was high point man in the meet. He scored 13 points for A&M.

Commercials Shaved by FTC Order

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission, which rides herd on television commercials the way the Federal Communications Commission watches the program flock, recently has been rounding up some strays.

Among other activities, it persuaded one company to abandon shaving cream commercials showing a razor shaving sandpaper which was not really sandpaper but glass sprinkled with sand. It ordered toothpaste and shaving cream manufacturers to stop making disparaging comparisons of rival products with their brands.

Effect of this activity has been to push commercial-makers into using the real thing, not doctored-up products or reasonably exact facsimiles.

One of the trade magazines recently conducted an investigation into current commercial-making practices and found some changes in progress.

For instance, a cold-remedy company recently requested the services of a girl model — who was suffering from a head cold. A candy company, which once used plastic fakes which would not melt under hot lights, now uses real candy.

A depilatory, which used to do a film demonstration by using sour cream (instead of the product on the models' legs, now uses the real stuff — but must hire several models because numerous applications of the depilatory for endless retakes causes burns.

Testimony Reveals Sale of Milk

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Harry L. Edwards, sales manager of the Pure Milk Association of Chicago, testified here Wednesday that his firm had made sales in Arkansas when processors were having difficulty with Central Arkansas Milk Producers Association over deliveries.

Edwards' testimony came at a Federal Trade Commission hearing on charges that CAMPA and its secretary-manager David L. Parr joined in a conspiracy to restrain or eliminate competition. The hearing has entered its seventh week. Both CAMPA and Parr have denied the charges.

Edwards said the only sales made by his firm were to Dean Milk Co. at Conway and the Coleman Co. at Little Rock in 1955. Testimony in the hearing was to continue today before Examiner Herman Tocker.

Candidate Forced to Land in Plane

BENTON, Ark. (AP) — A light private plane carrying Throp Thomas, a candidate for attorney general, and three other men crashed in a field near the Benton Airport Wednesday night.

No one was hurt seriously. Joe Borghetti, Pulaski County jailer, and Willis Lewis, a Little Rock attorney, suffered minor cuts. Thomas and the fourth man, prisoner being returned from California, were not hurt. The prisoner was not identified.

Thomas and the fourth man, a bound for Little Rock, but developed engine trouble south of Benton, plane, was trying to make the Benton airport to get the engine checked, Thomas said, but the motor quit as he was coming in for a landing.

The plane was heavily damaged. It did not burn.

World's Fair Show Not So Racy Now

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — The girls of the Galaxy Show were back in business at the Seattle World's Fair Wednesday night, still semi-nude but not quite so racy.

The show was closed April 25 after Seattle censors said it had been changed from the version they approved. The new format was passed by the Board of Theatrical supervisors Tuesday.

Under the revised format, comedian Jose Duarte spends more time on stage and the bare-breasted girls less.

scenes now have blades in their razors.

In addition, according to the magazine, the FTC frowns upon such practices as using mashed potatoes or cream cheese to simulate ice cream; adding salt or some other chemical to put a fine head on a glass of beer; fluffing up cakes or biscuits with air to make them higher and lighter; and adding real fresh meat to animal food of a meal type so that the dogs and cats will gobble it down enthusiastically.

Of course, the actor in a white coat making like a doctor and the actress in a nurse's cap imparting advice have long since departed the scene. They disappeared when it became mandatory to label these little charades. "This is a dramatization."

Would Call Negro Group Subversive

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mayor Samuel W. Yorty of Los Angeles is asking federal officials to declare the Black Muslim movement a subversive organization.

He said he wants to discuss the city's tense racial situation with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy. Factions in the Negro community have been charging police brutality since a riot April 28 in which a member of the Muslim cult was killed.

"The Muslim movement is nationwide, antiwhite group which claims its aim is to establish an all-Negro nation within the boundaries of the United States.

Yorty told a news conference Wednesday the Muslims promote race hatred. He said declaring the group subversive would permit stronger police measures.

He also disclosed police had seized records in Muslim headquarters here, including lists of 400 dues-paying members. Yorty said more than 50 per cent of the members here have criminal records.

In the April riot, one policeman was shot and two others seriously injured. One Muslim was slain, six wounded and more than a score arrested. The riot started after two officers stopped a pair of cult members to question them about men's clothes piled in their car.

A grand jury is investigating the Muslim movement.

Stilwell Hurt in Parachute Jump

CAMP DRUM, N.Y. (AP) — Brig. Gen. Joseph (Cider Joe) W. Stilwell suffered a dislocated right shoulder Wednesday in a practice parachute jump.

Stilwell, assistant commander of the 5th Infantry Division, was at this northern New York training camp to direct antiguerrilla warfare training of the 2nd Brigade of Ft. Devens, Mass. An Army spokesman said he apparently had landed off balance.

Stilwell is the son of the late Gen. Joseph (Vinegar Joe) Stilwell, who was commander of the China-Burma-India theater during World War II.

Aged Negro Shot by White Man

HELENA, Ark. (AP) — A 78-year-old Negro was hospitalized in Little Rock today after being shot four times by a white man while he was digging fishing worms Wednesday.

Helena Police Chief Roy Ross said he had few leads in the case, "but we're hoping for some luck." The victim, Ape Morris, said only that his assailant was a young white man wearing a white shirt.

Ross said. The hospital said Morris was in satisfactory condition.

Morris said he was digging worms on the bank of the Mississippi River when the man approached him with a pistol and said, "Ain't this a pretty gun?"

Morris said he agreed and turned away and the man fired at a bird. Then, Morris said, he felt thigh, and when he turned around a stinging in his leg, then in his he was shot twice in the stomach.

Witnesses fishing along the river verified the story and said they last saw the white man running along a levy.

Advisory Group Names Officials

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Members of the Governor's Advisory Committee on Mental Retardation, at their first meeting here Wednesday, named Mrs. J. T. Caplinger of England as secretary.

Jake Sklar of Little Rock, a Faubus appointee, is chairman.

The committee scheduled a fact-finding tour of the state mental health facilities and said it will study mental problems and how they may be solved.

Sklar said the committee hopes to have recommendations ready for submission to the 1963 legislature.

Medicine Control No Infringement

HOBBS, N.M. (AP) — The retiring president of the New Mexico Medical Society says controls in medicine can no longer be considered an infringement on the freedom of practice.

Dr. William E. Badger of Hobbs made the remarks at the 80th annual meeting of the society Wednesday.

"We must be willing to criticize and sit in judgment on our fellow practitioners when we have to," he said.

Sues Dentist Who Married Her Kissing

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — Mrs. David Hashagen of Nixa, Mo., has sued a Springfield dentist for $30,000, alleging she took his advice to have a wisdom tooth removed almost a year ago and as a result is impaired in eating, speaking and kissing.

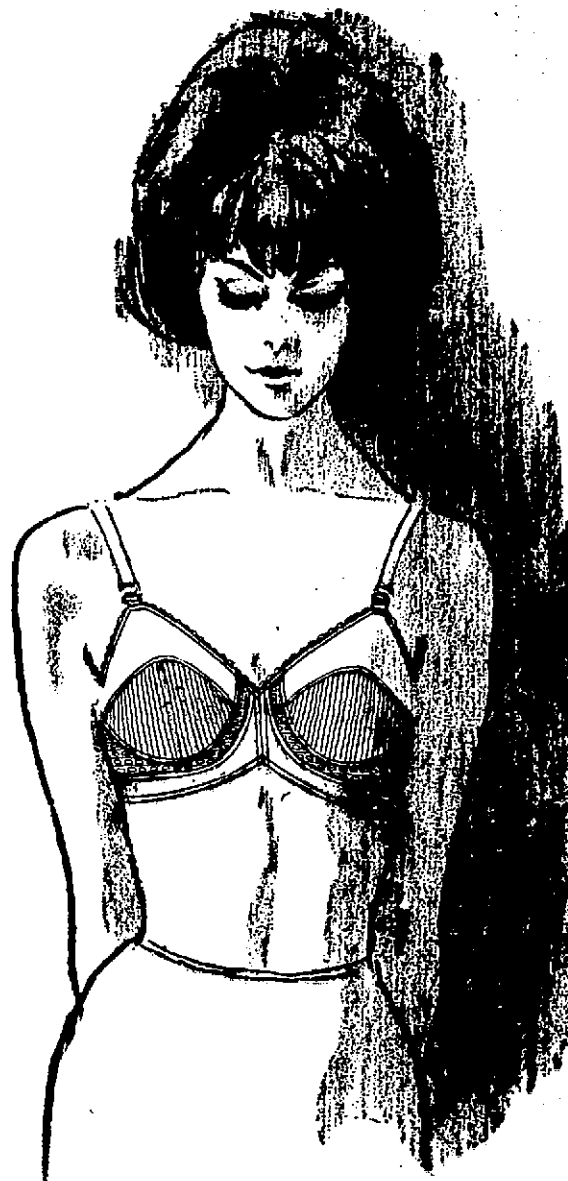

The suit was filed Tuesday against Dr. Paul Bunch. "Plaintiff's ability to form (sic) the age-old art of kissing has been impaired and lost," says Mrs. Hashagen's petition. She contends the extraction did physical violence to her nerves and damaged her lower jawbone.

DOROTHY DIX

She Finds That to Love Is to Be Hurt

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: All of my life I have felt unwanted and still do—at 17. My parents separated when I was three. My mother has given me three step-fathers. With her various marriages we lived all over the United States.

Now, my grandparents have taken me in their home, and Mother is off to Arizona with my third step-father. That hurt me a lot for, in spite of all her foolishness, I love my mother. But my own father lives close by, with his second wife and two children. I could love them and suppose secretly I do, but hesitate to let myself for fear of losing them, as I do anything and anybody I care about.

My own sister, whom I loved very much, ran away and got married last May. I guess she was just tired of traipsing around.

Even with the kind of life we've led, both of us remained good girls.

I'm now going steady with the most wonderful boy in the world. He is everything a girl could want—and—miracle of miracles, he says he loves me! He treats me like a human being but I'm afraid to let myself believe in that fickle word—love. I want someone to need me, as I need them, but I'm scared.

Suppose I let myself love this boy only to lose him in the end? Should I make up my mind that there is really no such thing as true love in this world? I never miss going to church and I pray all the time but God doesn't seem to hear me. Please help me, as I have no one else to turn to. —Lonesome and Confused.

Dear Lonesome: God hears you!

and answers but not as a mortal would. By being very quiet and listening for the still, small voice deep within your own consciousness, you can get divine inspiration, as well as a solution to any problem. But you must have faith!

Never be afraid to give forth love. Notwithstanding your experience, you will get back double measure. But to attract the real thing you must be positive in your thinking. Look upon your life as one of great experience and challenge. Be thankful for this unique preparation. How many girls have seen all of the United States at 17, or learned through a mother to cope with husbands?

Taken in the right spirit, yours has been a big opportunity. Make the most of it and above all, don't lose faith in human beings. We all have to take chances. You alone can gauge the quality of this boy. If he fades out, keep on believing that the right one for you will eventually come along. And he will, if you believe!

Dear Helen: We moved recently into a very nice neighborhood. Everybody was so pleasant, and the kids so well behaved, it seemed to us an answer to prayer. At least we thought so until we became aware of the people next door.

Our property has no sidewalk as yet because, what with buying the home, it takes all of our ready money. My little girl rides a tricycle, my boy a bicycle. They joined the others and everybody was happy except the woman next door. Today, I heard her tell my youngsters, "Take your bicycles, get back on your own property and stay there." This is upsetting me and the whole neighborhood! Has she any right to order my children off that sidewalk? What could make her so mean? Any ideas? —Mrs. N.

Dear Mrs. N.: Sidewalks are public property. So long as the children don't make a nuisance of themselves, they have just as much right as the woman to use the sidewalk. Tell your youngsters to keep on going when they pass her house. Meanwhile continue try-

Simmons Hurls Cards Over 1st Place Giants

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

A comeback pitcher who has again found the victory touch, a resolute catcher with a hot bat and an aging manager who's simply one of the greatest hitters in baseball annals.

That was the vital combination as the St. Louis Cardinals threw a roadblock at San Francisco's streaking Giants in the National League's first night game Wednesday night.

Left-hander Curt Simmons, an ailment-plagued reject by Philadelphia when he was picked up by the Cards two years ago, maintained his perfect season's record in the 7-3 win.

Simmons became the first pitcher to go the distance against the Giants this year in their 28 games, throwing a nine-hitter in his fifth victory and fifth complete game in as many starts. Carl Sawatski drove in four runs with a homer and two singles, zooming his average to .386. And Stan Musial, 41, inched to within one hit of Honus Wagner's NL record of 3,420.

Los Angeles moved into third place in the NL with a handy 9-2 romp against Houston, Cincinnati clouded Philadelphia 7-1 and Milwaukee outlasted Pittsburgh 4-2. Cold weather at Chicago forced postponement of the New York-Cubs game.

In the American League, Detroit beat Los Angeles 6-3. New York scored over Boston 4-1. Minnesota shaded Cleveland 2-1. Baltimore tripped Kansas City 4-3 and Chicago divided a pair with Washington, winning the second game 7-6 after a 9-3 loss.

Simmons was rapped for three homers among the nine outs he allowed but kept the league leaders in check. San Francisco's Orlando Cepeda hit homer No. 9 against the lefty in the fourth, and reliever Mike McCormick and Jim Davenport connected in the seventh.

Sawatski hit a two-run single against Jack Sanford (3-2) in the

Palmer Heads Ft. Worth Field

PORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—With visions of conquering Colonial's sprawling endurance test, Arnold Palmer and 57 members of his elite set forth today on the first round of the $40,000 tournament.

In the minds of most of the star-studded field is a pay-window appointment for $7,000, but for Palmer the 7,112-yard, par 70 course offers a special challenge.

The Latitude, Pa., better already has five tournament championships, tucked away this year and 31 during his illustrious career, but none bear the Colonial stamp.

The tour's leading money winner skyrocketed to a 7 in the final round here last year to eliminate himself from contention and help pave the way for Doug Sanders to tuck away the title with a one-over-par 201.

Russia Also Has Some Drug Addicts

MOSCOW (AP)—A Moscow judge called for compulsory hospitalization of drug addicts Wednesday in the first public admission that narcotics is a problem among Soviet youth.

first, his homer in the fourth and a run-scoring single in the fifth. The Dodgers peppered Houston pitching for 14 singles and a pair of doubles, backing up a strong eight-hitter by southpaw Johnny Podres (2-2).

Nicking Dean Stone (2-2) for 11 hits and four runs in seven innings, the Dodgers made it a rout with five more runs off Dave Gusti and Hal Woodeshick in the ninth.

Cincinnati gave Bob Purkey hefty support, hammering Phillie pitchers for 15 hits. Purkey yielded only five hits and two earned runs. The Reds pounded in front by scoring twice off Art Mahafley (2-4) in the first and were ahead 6-1 after three.

Frank Robinson, showing signs of breaking out of a prolonged slump, singled three times and knocked in three Cincinnati runs.

A 15-hit barrage led by Joe Adcock and Frank Bolling and neat slant of clutch relief by rookie Hank Fischer carried the Braves over the Pirates. Adcock homered and singled and Bolling stroked three singles as Milwaukee took a 4-1 lead, but the Bucks threatened in the eighth by loading the bases against winner Ron Piche (2-0). Fischer taking over allowed the Pirates to salvage only one run out of the rally. Bob Friend took the loss, his second in six decisions.

Kaline Is Hot, Rocky May Up Tigers' Chances

By MIKE RATHER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Al Kaline continues, to roll. Rocky Colavito seems to have taken his first wobbly steps and Detroit may finally be ready to move in that American League pennant chase.

With hot-hitting Kaline driving in two runs with a double and homer No. 9 and slumping Colavito collecting three RBI with a triple, the Tigers belted the Los Angeles Angels 6-3 Wednesday night for their second straight victory after halting a five-game skid.

Kaline, who has never hit more than 27 homers in his 10-year career, is off to a fast start with a .363 batting average and the surprising nine homers.

Colavito is batting a tepid .190, has yet to hit a homer and has driven in only nine runs in 22 games.

The victory left the Tigers four games behind the pacesetter New York Yankees, who broke up Bill Monbouquette's no-hit bid in the seventh inning with four unearned runs to whip Boston 4-1.

Minnesota's third-place Twins shoved runner-up Cleveland two games back by edging the Indians 2-1.

Baltimore defeated Kansas City 6-3 as Brooks Robinson tied a major league record by hitting his second grand slam homer in two games, and Washington and Chicago split a two-night doubleheader. The Senators won the first 9-1 with the White Sox taking the nightcap 7-6.

In the National League, second-place St. Louis knocked off first-place San Francisco 7-3, the Los Angeles Dodgers clobbered Houston 9-2, Cincinnati beat Philadelphia 7-4 and Milwaukee spilled Pittsburgh 4-2. The New York Mets-Chicago Cubs game was postponed due to cold.

Colavito got the Tigers the decisive run with his bases-loaded smash in the fifth inning, then protected the lead by robbing Billy Moran of a three-run homer with a fine catch in front of the left field seats in the seventh. Jim Bunning (4-1), won it. Ted Bowsfield (1-1) took the loss.

Held hitless for 6 1-3 innings by Monbouquette (2-3), the Yanks struck suddenly after Tom Tresh got the first hit on a bunt. Roger Maris' liner was dropped by Gary Geiger and one out later Yogi Berra walked to load the bases. Elston Howard cleared them with a double, and Moose Skowron drove in Howard with a single. Whitey Ford (3-1) won it.

The Twins gave Jack Kralick (2-2) all he needed with a pair in the first. Kralick allowed only five hits—one John Romano's third inning homer—before he was hit in the eighth for reliever Ray Moore. The loser was Gary Bell (2-2).

Robinson's grand slam capped a six-run surge in the second inning off Ed Rakow (3-2). It was enough for Bill Pappas (3-1), who held the A's to five hits, struck out 13 and retired the last 16 men in order.

Southpaw Don Rudolph (1-0), appearing for the Senators for the first time, stopped his former White Sox teammates in the opener with an eight-hitter. John Buzhardt (4-2) was the loser.

The White Sox earned a split by chasing rookie Steve Hamilton (0-1) in the seventh. Joe Cunningham's two-run homer in the sixth had pulled the Chicagoans even. Ray Herbert (2-1) was the winner.

Marion County Under Quarantine

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Health Department placed Marion County under a 90 days rabies quarantine Wednesday after four cases of the disease were confirmed in animals. The department said the cases involved a fox, two cows and a raccoon. It said a trapping program would be initiated to eliminate rabid wild animals.

Farm Interphone

In one of these columns last year, I mentioned a new communications service we have developed for farms. Since that time, the Farm Interphone has really caught on.

This new telephone system ties together the whole farm operation from important points around the farmstead.

With the Farm Interphone, you can talk from the barn to elsewhere without talking a step or interrupting your work. Your wife can handle incoming calls, and can talk with you without running to farm buildings or otherwise trying to locate you. Time is saved — and money, too.

Call us to learn how the Farm Interphone can be tailored to fit your needs. Like other farmers all over the country, you'll find it's the handiest helper you've ever had.

Spring Decorating

Have you noticed how everyone is working in the yard or flower beds, or painting around the house, this time of the year? There's just something about spring, other than "the young man's fancy" we're always hearing about.

Telephone people can be a big help in your redecorating plans, by offering you many colorful and decorative ideas.

One of the newest items is the melodic Bell Chime, which replaces the "ringer" on your telephone. The Bell Chime asks you to answer the phone in any one of three cheerful notes, and it comes in either ivory or gold.

Another item you may be interested in is an extension telephone in any one of several beautiful colors. You'll find it easy to match the color of paint you are using in your redecoration.

Just call the Telephone Business Office — or ask any telephone serviceman — for more detailed information.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

SOUTHWESTERN BELL-ARKANSAS

Arkansan to Testify for the Guards

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — A veteran Arkansas National Guard leader will go to Washington armed with an arsenal of facts to tell the House Armed Forces Subcommittee why Arkansas should have its Guard manpower slashed.

Col. Frank Angelo of Jonesboro, commander of the 875th Engineer Battalion, was notified Monday by Rep. E. C. Gathings, D-Ark., that he is to appear before the subcommittee headed by Rep. F. Edward Hebert, D-La. No date for his testimony has been set.

"My whole battalion would be wiped out," Angelo said, "if the plan to reduce the guard by about 40,000 men is carried out."

The 875th has 624 officers and men in Jonesboro and Stuttgart, and more than $3.5 million in earthmoving equipment such as bulldozers, cranes and a fleet of trucks, he said.

In addition one of Arkansas' three artillery battalions would be cut. Which one hasn't been decided. A Harrison battalion has 425 men, a Fayetteville battalion has 450 and a West Memphis battalion has 360.

Arkansas guardsmen have faith that Angelo can present their case well in Washington.

"He's a veteran guard leader and a very competent leader," said Col. Ernest McDaniel of Little Rock, operations officer for the state Guard. "We have confidence that he'll make a very effective presentation."

McDaniel said that as far as he knows, Angelo is the only Arkansan who will testify before the subcommittee. Guard leaders from many states will state reasons why they think strength should not be cut.

Angelo said today that he will give the subcommittee four main reasons why he thinks his battalion should remain intact.

"First, I think the whole cut-back is unwarranted," he said, "because the Guard traditionally has been a state militia and the people feel that every state should have some type of force for coping with riots, civil strife and natural disasters. I think the Guard should be left at the 400,000 man level."

"Secondly, he said, deletion of his battalion would mean economic loss and hardship through loss of jobs. "Our unit is composed of 65 per cent college students from Arkansas State," he said. "Many of them would be forced to leave college." The battalion has 499 men in Jonesboro and 125 in Stuttgart, where a $250,000 armory was recently completed. The Jonesboro segment is housed in a $400,000 armory on the college campus.

Third, Angelo said, doing away with heavy construction battalions like the 875th is a waste because "We have ideal capability for recovery from nuclear attack. We are located between Little Rock and Blytheville Air Force bases and we're near the Greenville Air Force Base — all prime nuclear targets."

Fourth, the Guard leader said, the 875th is ideally suited to cope with floods and flood prevention.

Orange Flavored Milk Tastes Good

Here's a delightfully different milk beverage that's lip-smacking delicious. Especially irresistible to tired and thirsty youngsters, this festive and refreshing drink combines frosty cold milk with orange flavor soft drink mix. It is a nutritious and flavorful between-meal pick-up, sure to please the young and the young at heart.

Orange Milk Delight

1 envelope orange instant soft drink mix
2 quarts milk
2 cups sugar
Grated orange rind

Mix instant soft drink mix and sugar. Add milk and beat mixture with egg beater until sugar and mix are dissolved and mixture is foamy—about one minute. Serve immediately, topping each serving with the grated orange rind. Makes 2 quarts or 8 servings, 8 oz. each.

To make four servings: Use 2 teaspoons instant orange soft drink mix, ½ cup sugar and 1 quart cold milk.

Says U. S. Not Seeking Any Advantage

By GORDON TAIT

CANBERRA, Australia (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk declared tonight any belief the United States is seeking advantages from Britain's bid to enter the European Common Market is utterly unfounded.

The integration of Western Europe, he declared in a prepared statement at a news conference, will require adjustments by all. His words obviously were designed to allay fears of Australia and New Zealand, who look on the British move with misgivings.

"We look beyond the difficulties that may be encountered during the period of transition to the building of an even more prosperous world community of free nations," Rusk said.

Rusk's news conference was held after a closed session of three hours with Australian Foreign Minister Sir Garfield Barwick and New Zealand Prime Minister Keith Holyoake under the Australian-New Zealand-United States security pact — ANZUS.

Holyoake also is foreign minister. The defense talks ranged over such matters as nuclear tests, Berlin, the buildup of Soviet arms in Indonesia, and the Geneva disarmament conference—and presumably such problems as Laos and South Viet Nam.

But apparently Rusk in 10 hours in Canberra heard so much about Australian and New Zealand fears they will lose their preferential market in Britain for their wool and other products if Britain joins the common market that he felt and other natural disasters, such as when a tornado hit Arkansas State College last year. "Within minutes, our men and machines were lifting the roof of the gymnasium, expecting to find students underneath," he said. They found none.

The 875th was one of the first outfits called up in the Berlin buildup and was on the alert until 90 days ago, Angelo said.

The artillery battalions have nuclear cannon potential, he said, and would be vital in an emergency.

Angelo has been in the Guard 12 years. He is a Jonesboro businessman, whose companies make truck bodies and poultry shipping coops. He is a civic leader and past president of the Rotary Club.

Congress to Investigate Estes Affairs

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice Department and Senate investigators were reported today to be exploring affairs of two Republican former officials of the Agriculture Department in connection with the Billie Sol Estes case.

Well placed informants, declining to be quoted by name, also said the over-all inquiry may touch on relations between Estes, a cotton-raising, grain-storing, West Texas financier, and government agencies other than the Agriculture Department. They declined to name the other agencies at this point.

One of the major questions raised in the Estes case is whether he has received favored treatment from the Agriculture Department under President Kennedy's farm secretary, Orville L. Freeman. Freeman says Estes did not.

The two Republicans were identified as James A. McConnell and Walter Berger, former officials in the Agriculture Department's Commodities Stabilization Service under Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson. Benson headed the department in President Dwight D. Eisenhower's administration.

McConnell and Berger left the agency with the change in administration. Both have served on the board of directors of Commercial Solvents Corp. of New York. A company source said today Berger is still a director but McConnell is no longer on the board.

A Texas court of inquiry has received evidence that Estes bought fertilizer from Commercial Solvents and sold it at a loss to farmers who would agree to store their grain in Estes-owned grain elevators.

Senate hearings on the Estes case are expected but Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said today he won't be stampeded into starting them prematurely.

"You can't go into hearings without knowing what you are doing," said McClellan, chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee. "We are not going to move until we feel we are ready."

The subcommittee has assigned mer Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, spoke to the DAR off the cuff after the Pentagon had refused to clear a text he had prepared.

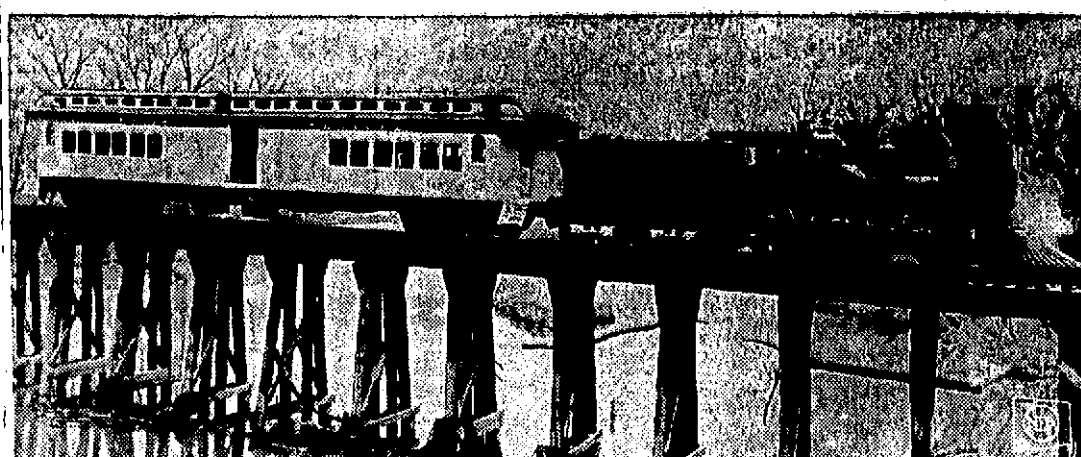

In his impromptu talk, Roberts said Mayor Samuel Yorty of Los Angeles had a Communist background—a charge which Yorty promptly denied—and that the assistant secretary of state, G. Mennen Williams, had leftist leanings. Roberts, a veteran of more than 18 years of active Army service, protested his dismissal on grounds the action violated Army regulations.

Asked about the status of the case, the Army said that Roberts on May 1 wrote Stahr asking a reconsideration. The case was subsequently reviewed and the action taken was reaffirmed, the Army said, adding that Roberts had been notified of the results of the review.

Roberts retains his reserve commission.

Roberts asked Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., to intercede in his behalf and last week the senator wrote the Army asking for information. His aide told a reporter Allott had not yet received a reply.

Allott has said his concern is whether Roberts' rights were abrogated, as he would concern himself with the rights of any constituent.

CENTENNIAL RUN—Reconditioned and refurbished, the "General," storied locomotive which was involved in the Andrews Raid of 1862, is ready for a year of Civil War centennial runs. Under its own steam, it will haul passengers in the combination coach of the era, shown above, when it appears at various observances across the nation.

10 investigators to look into charges that Estes profited from political influence in Washington. Estes had dealings under the government's cotton program and stored government-owned surplus grain in elevators he owned.

Estes, a Texas financier, is under indictment for fraud in connection with the sale of chattel mortgages on nonexistent fertilizer tanks.

A Texas court of inquiry has heard testimony that Estes gave gifts of clothing to some Agriculture Department officials, but Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has said that Estes never got a dime of profit or influence from the Agriculture Department.

New Bank Opens at Dermott

DERMOTT, Ark. (AP) — The First National Bank of Dermott opened for business Monday as a member of the Federal Reserve System.

The bank has a capital of $125,000 and surplus of $100,000. It is the 477th bank to join the 8th Federal Reserve District, the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis announced.

McClellan spoke in an interview after a long weekend away from Washington during which he had remained silent about a chorus of Republican demands for faster action in his inquiry.

McClellan told a reporter he plans within a few days to meet with investigators now at work in Texas, Washington and presumably in other states, to start comparing notes.

Furniture Fire Cost $50,000

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Ernest Tracy, secretary of the Bennett Furniture Co. here, estimated today that $50,000 worth of furniture was destroyed in a fire at the store Monday night.

Cause of the fire still has not been determined. The Fire Department said. Damage to the building itself was not extensive.

Tracy said the firm had bought $100,000 worth of furniture for a sale, but that much of it still was in a warehouse in another part of town and had not been moved to the store.

The first recorded seiche was on Lake Geneva in 1730. It was noted by a Swiss engineer, Fallo de Duillier.

Teen-Agers Need Orange "Break"

Teen-agers need to keep their energy at peak level not only during the school period but even more importantly during vacation, whether they take on summer jobs or simply indulge in all the delightful active sports that season offers. Teen-agers, as well as other youngsters too, should get their daily amount of needed, valuable, vitamin C, and a delicious, easy way to do it is with an orange juice "break" mid-morning and afternoon too.

Teaching young people good food habits early in life starts them on a valuable nutrition pattern that becomes a matter of course after maturity.

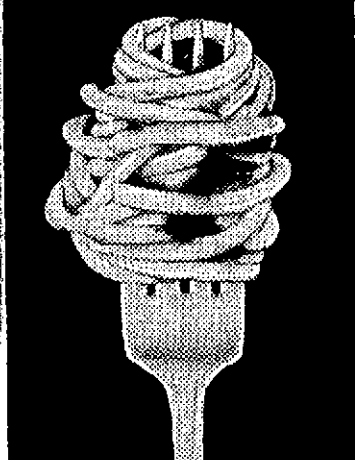

The golden gift of Florida oranges does not cease after the peak season when the fresh fruit is no longer available, for the fine quality frozen orange juice concentrate contains as much vitamin C as the fresh juice and is unusually economical this year. The canned fruit juices, too, are a quick and easy way to partake of this much-needed vitamin which we require every day as it is not stored by the body.

The following recipe produces a delicious, refreshing party drink perfect for summer teen get-togethers.

Orange Crush

1 can (6 ounces) frozen Florida orange juice concentrate, reconstituted
½ pint orange sherbet
1 bottle (7 ounces) ginger-ale, chilled
1 cup shaved ice

Put reconstituted orange juice in electric blender or shaker. Add remaining ingredients. Blend or shake until thick and frothy. Pour into 6 tall glasses. Garnish with mint. Yield: 6 servings.

Fuel Issue Tossup in Moon Plan

By RALPH DIGHTON

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—The question of whether the first American to land on the moon goes there directly or refuels in orbit apparently has been tossed again on the dice table of experiment.

James E. Webb, head of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said some months ago a rendezvous of tanker and moonship probably would be necessary because of weight-carrying limitations of available booster rockets.

Tuesday one of his nuclear experts, Harold B. Finger, expressed hope an alternate capability might be found in time to meet President Kennedy's 1970 deadline.

There is a chance, he said, that nuclear propulsion may be perfected in 1968 or 1969 to power the third stage of the manned moon-landing rocket.

Finger told the second annual conference on peaceful uses of space that the program plans flight testing of nuclear rocket stages in the 1965-67 period and that two years of development would be required to achieve an operational nuclear vehicle.

Such a vehicle might be available in the 1968-69 period, he said, and because of its greater thrust probably could perform a manned lunar landing mission by direct ascent rather than by rendezvous.

Asked about this at a news conference later, Webb said the question is still open.

"If flight testing should show that the rendezvous method is not satisfactory we could speed up the direct boost program," he said.

Still sold on the rendezvous technique, however, was Dr. Werner von Braun, director of the Marshall Space Flight Center at Huntsville, Ala.

"We will want the rendezvous capability anyway for other programs," von Braun told newsmen.

Weather Slows Land Preparation

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Wet weather slowed land preparation and seeding of spring crops in Arkansas last week, the Crop Reporting Service said today.

The federal-state agency's weekly crop report said, however, that early planted cotton, rice and growth corn is in a king satisfactory growth.

The report said cotton seeding is 35 per cent complete, and 60 per cent of the rice acreage has been planted.

Land preparation for soybeans is well advanced, but only 10 per cent of the crop has been planted, the report noted.

It said strawberry harvest is underway in White and other central Arkansas counties. A good apple crop in northwest Arkansas was forecast.

Sheridan Votes for Bond Issue

SHERIDAN, Ark. (AP)—Sheridan voters approved Tuesday a $61,000 bond issue to expand and improve the city sewer system. The vote was 284 to 37.

The city council will extend a 4.5 mill tax that has been used on a swimming pool bond issue, which is expiring.

Some Damage From Storms in State

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Only minor damage was reported after two severe thunderstorms moved through northeastern Arkansas late Tuesday, the Weather Bureau said today.

The bureau said the storms carried winds and hail.

One of the storms was in the Hardy and Mammoth Springs area and another in the Walnut Ridge area. Walnut Ridge received .65 of an inch of rainfall Tuesday night, and Mammoth Springs received .68. No damage was reported in any of those cities.

Winds, rain and hail hit the Beech Grove area near Paragould, causing some minor damage to wheat and corn crops. Beech Grove had 79-hundredths of rainfall.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The U.S. Weather Bureau reported two severe thunderstorms moving through northeastern Arkansas late Tuesday night carrying damaging winds and hail.

One of the storms was tracked on radar from here in the Hardy and Mammoth Springs area and another in the Walnut Ridge area. Counties alerted for possible damage from the storms were Fulton, Sharpe, Randolph, Clay and Greene.

Late Tuesday night no damage had been reported in the area. Walnut Ridge and Pocahontas received hail and high wind gusts and rain was generally heavy in the storm area, the Weather Bureau said.

The storms were reported moving southeast at about 25 miles per hour and were expected to clear the state by early morning.

No Ivy on Halls of This Calif. College

FULLERTON, Calif. (AP)—There's no ivy in the halls of 3-year-old Orange County State College.

But there's going to be plenty of ivory on campus Friday when the school hosts the world's first intercollegiate elephant racing meet.

Orange County says it has 12 entries lined up—and may get one more—as a result of what started as a tongue-in-cheek challenge to an elephant race to 16 universities two weeks ago.

Since then the school has been flooded with inquiries and good wishes. Administrators even got a telegram from former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who advised the sponsoring elephant racing club: "Best of luck to you. I know from sad experience that there's more to pachyderm pacing than meets the eye."

The elephants, rented from circuses, zoos and animal farms for $150 and up, come in a variety of sizes.

The largest is a five-ton gray eminence nicknamed, by students of sponsoring Chapman College, "Calvin Coolidge"—because he doesn't choose to run.

Harvard's entry, weighing 4½ tons, is named "Sonita." There's a dainty entrant called "Popsie," sponsored by Santa Monica City College.

Other entries come from the University of Nevada, California Institute of Technology, California State Polytechnic at Pomona, California Lutheran, Long Beach State, Santa Ana College, Fullerton Junior College and the Northrop Institute of Technology at nearby Inglewood.

Orange County State's entry was rented a week ago from a private zoo.

Dean of Students Ernest A. Becker said the University of Washington is trying to enter the meet, which would bring the number to 13.

Council Sends Negro Man to California

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Capital Citizens Council, after sending a 62-year-old unemployed Negro on a freedom ride to California, renewed its efforts Tuesday to find applicants for a similar trip to Hyannis Port, Mass., summer home of President Kennedy.

The council offered two weeks ago, after a New Orleans leader in the movement visited here, to sponsor a "Freedom Flight" to Hyannis Port and set May 8 as the tentative departure date for two families.

The day before the departure date, Amis Guthridge, president of the council, announced there were no takers. Tuesday a Negro who refused to identify himself but showed reporters a poll tax receipt made out to Wayman Berry of Roland, Ark., boarded a Greyhound bus for Stockton, Calif. on a ticket purchased by the council.

Tuesday night at a closed meeting, the council voted to circulate handbills seeking applicants for the Hyannis Port trip and other points.

Guthridge said the handbills would read in part:

"Free airplane tickets to Hyannis Port for two large Negro families. Bus or train tickets if preferred. $5 cash to each member of family, regardless of age. President Kennedy's brother assures you a grand reception to Massachusetts. Good jobs, housing, etc. are promised."

Guthridge said the handbill would also offer free transportation to other points.

The council's first "freedom rider" told newsmen he had three children in Stockton and that he had visited California several times in the past few years. The longest he stayed, he said, was one year.

He said he left his wife at Roland but she might join him later. Guthridge said the frequency of rides sponsored from here by the council will depend on the amount of money available.

Scranton Loan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Community Facilities Administration announced Tuesday approval of loans totaling $81,000 to Scranton, Ark. for construction of water facilities. One loan for $39,000 will be for construction of a distribution system and other facilities. Another, for $42,000 will be made for completion of a well, pump, fire loop and other work.

She'll Take Him In Spite of Cast

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Phyllis Irene Jarvis of Gravesend, Kent, England, and Norman Barrett of Kansas City were married Tuesday in Room 301 at Research Hospital.

Norman and Phyllis, both 25, met in 1960 when he was visiting England. They started making wedding plans. She had trouble arranging entry into the United States. He was called to active duty with the Air Force Reserve. Phyllis finally arrived April 18, but on March 28 Norman had wrecked his car. He'll be in casts at least three more months. "I'll take him, broken leg and all," said Mrs. Barrett.

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Julie Nixon has a bump on her head—and no wonder.

The former vice president's daughter, Julie Ann, was hit with a baseball bat Tuesday.

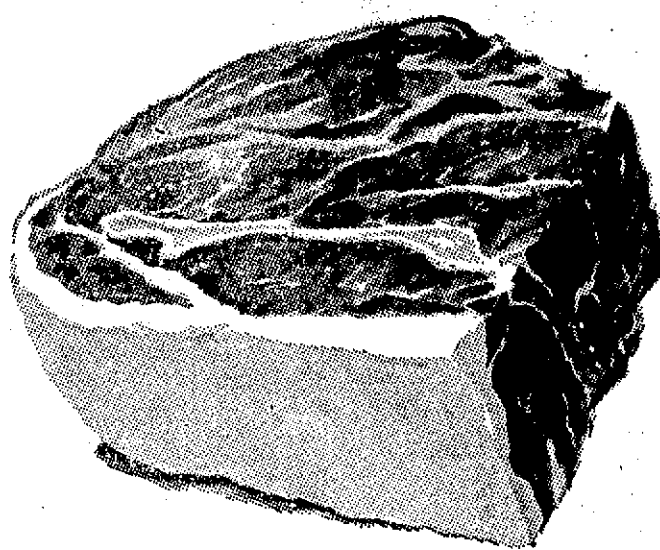

She is home, under a doctor's care, recovering. The doctor says Julie, 14, was watching a softball game Tuesday at a private school where she is in the ninth grade.

A pitch came in wide of the plate and the girl at bat scooted over to swing at it. She missed the ball. But she hit Julie.

Big Food Fun, Small Work—Chocolate Banana Pops

It's hard to believe anything so simple to make could be so downright delicious as Chocolate Banana Freezi-Pops, but you'll see. All you do for this delectable treat is take half a ripe banana, put a stick in it, freeze the banana, and then coat it with melted semi-sweet chocolate morsels. Almost by magic, it seems, the chocolate hardens around the banana. Then you wrap each Chocolate Banana Pop in foil, and put back in the freezer, to be ready at a moment's notice with the most delicious and refreshing of all summer treats.

Setting your teeth into that smooth, rich chocolate around the icy cold bite of mellow banana is just pure eating joy. The reason why these Chocolate Banana Freezi-Pops are so easy is because they are made with melted semi-sweet chocolate morsels, so complete you can eat them "as is," like candy. Just melt them, and your chocolate coating is ready!

Chocolate Banana Freezi-Pops

1 6-ounce package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels

6 fully ripe bananas

Peel bananas; cut in half crosswise. Insert a wooden stick into the end of each. Place in shallow pan; freeze 2 to 3 hours. Melt semi-sweet chocolate morsels over hot (not boiling) water. Spread melted chocolate with spatula or knife over each banana. Chocolate will harden immediately. Wrap each banana in aluminum foil; store in freezer. Yield: 12 chocolate coated bananas.

Army Officers Tabbed Best Salesmen

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP)—A national retailer of mutual fund shares told federal securities investigators today that senior military officers on active duty are among his best part-time salesmen.

H. L. Jamieson, president of King Merritt & Co., Inc., New York, said his organization hires many officers in the military who are going to be retiring in a year or two and want to prepare to make a shift to the fund business.

Investigators said that a third of installment buyers of certain mutual fund shares are paying a 40 per cent sales commission.

Testifying at the second day of public hearings in the broad securities industry investigation being conducted by the Securities and Exchange Commission, Jamieson said: "This type of person has been our best type of salesman."

He also included schoolteachers in this category.

Asked if a captain could sell fund shares to a corporal who is working for him, Jamieson indicated he knew of no prohibition against that.

James McConnell, King Merritt's executive vice president, said any regulations governing sales to military personnel would be a matter for military commands.

King Merritt has 2,200 salesmen operating out of offices in 40 states and several foreign countries, Jamieson said, 1,700 of these are full-time employees.

Asked if the company could continue operating if the use of part-time salesmen was barred, Jamieson said, "Yes, but we wouldn't like to."

After Drive, Reds in Laos Will Talk

By ANTOINE YARED

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The Indian chairman of the three-nation control commission, Avtar Singh, said today pro-Communist and neutralist factions have expressed a readiness to resume talks with the pro-Western government of Premier Prince Boun Oum to settle the Laotian crisis.

Singh made the statement to reporters on his return from a flying trip to Kang Khay—headquarters of neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma and his half-brother, pro-Communist Prince Souphanouvong.

Both princes, however, were away. Souvanna is visiting in France and Souphanouvong is in the Laotian province of Sam Neua, nursing eye trouble.

Singh and two other commission members made the trip with Malcolm MacDonald, British co-chairman of the Geneva conference on Laos, who spent the day talking with other rebel leaders. The two other commission members are Leon Mayrand of Canada and A. Morski of Poland.

MacDonald, who said he came to Laos on an unofficial visit, declined comment on the nature of his talks.

He had been expected to try to find out why the Pathet Lao rebels broke the year-old cease-fire and pledges of rebel chieftains—

Money Granted for New State Agency

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The federal government has approved a $66,000 grant to help Arkansas set up a state Training Department, Gov. Orval E. Faubus announced today.

The money will be pooled with state funds to provide $100,000 for operation of the agency through July 1, 1963.

The department will operate under the state Geological and Conservation Commission, which already has interviewed several applicants for the position of planning director.

Faubus was notified of approval of the grant by Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., and William L. Slayton, an official of the federal Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Faubus said the money would be used for "preparation of elements of a comprehensive plan for growth and development of the state."

Jobless Dip During April, U. S. Reports

WASHINGTON (AP)—Unemployment dropped by 430,000 in April and went below the four-million figure for the first time this year, Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg announced today.

Although the improvement was normal for the season, Goldberg said the decline—and a simultaneous rise in employment to an April record—was an encouraging sign of continued business expansion.

The unemployment rate remained at 5.5 per cent of the civilian labor force, the same as in March as against the 6.9 per cent of a year earlier.

The rate is based on seasonal adjustments, and remained unchanged this month because the drop was expected.

The number of long-term unemployed—those out of work 15 weeks or longer—was unchanged at 1.5 million, Goldberg said.

He told a news conference: "The country can do better and will do better."

With the drop in unemployment, the total counted as jobless in April was 3,952,000.

The number of employed increased by 711,000 over the month to an April all-time high of 67,027,000.

The latter figure was 1,293,000 greater than the number holding jobs a year earlier.

by staging the offensive that felled stronghold of Nam Tha Sunday, the royal government's northern stronghold of Nam Tha Sunday.

A British spokesman said in London Tuesday that Britain had asked the Soviet Union to persuade the Reds to withdraw from the northwest provincial capital 20 miles from Red China's border, which fell Sunday after a four-month siege.

Britain and the Soviet Union are co-chairmen of the international conference in Geneva, which is trying to establish a neutral government in Laos.

There was no report today on the progress of the Pathet Lao troops who captured Nam Tha and then advanced toward Houei Sai, the last major position held by forces of the Vientiane government north of Luang Prabang, the royal capital.

Herbert Cole of the Cole Corner community west of Jonesboro figured the fish in his private pond weren't growing fast enough, so he decided to fertilize the pond.

He obtained the fertilizer easily enough. But he had trouble spreading it.

Cole had just bought a new pickup truck and this he loaded with fertilizer and drove to the lake.

He parked the truck and went to get his boat, from which he planned to spread the fertilizer.

While he was gone, the truck rolled down a hill and into the

Time passed, and both girls married, but they kept in touch by occasional letter.

Estela wrote her friend, who had moved to California, of their plight when oppression days came in Cuba and soon the W.A.G. Woodwards had invited them to the

Jailed for Flight to Escape Charge

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—

Federal Bureau of Investigation agents said here Tuesday they have arrested Richard Hutchinson 18, on a federal charge of flight to avoid prosecution on a charge of illegal possession of explosives in Dallas, Tex.

Authorities in Dallas said a warrant was issued Monday after a friend of Hutchinson told them Hutchinson had shown him a stick of dynamite and said he was going to blow up a dormitory at Morris School near Searcy, Ark.

Police said Hutchinson once attended the correctional school there.

Roy K. Moore, special agent in charge of the Little Rock FBI office, said Hutchinson was picked up in Hot Springs at the home of his mother.

Moore said Hutchinson waived preliminary hearing and bond was set at $1,000.

Celebration? Serve Coconut Cake!

This handsome Coconut Tube Cake is worthy of any important celebration! It is rich, moist, and light in texture—a cake to frost lightly and serve proudly. For the frosting, mix 2 cups of confectioners' sugar with about 2 tablespoons of hot milk—or just enough to make a thin glaze.

Coconut Tube Cake
 2 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
 2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 3/4 cup butter or margarine
 2 cups granulated sugar
 1 teaspoon pure vanilla
 3 eggs, unbeaten
 1 cup milk
 1/4 cup packaged grated coconut

Measure sifted flour, add baking powder and salt, and sift together. Cream butter until light and fluffy; add sugar gradually and beat until smooth and creamy. Add vanilla and beat well. Add eggs, one at a time, beating thoroughly after each. Then add the flour alternately with the milk, beating after each addition until smooth. Fold in coconut. Pour the batter into a 10-inch tube pan, which has been greased and floured. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) for 65 to 70 minutes. Cool in pan 15 minutes; then remove from pan and continue cooling on a rack. Frost the top of the cake. Sprinkle with additional packaged grated coconut.

Food Sense □ Not Nonsense

Only One Aladdin's Lamp

Not any old Aladdin's lamp works in losing weight even if you say words like, "Calories don't count." Only the genuine article—energy balance—and its golden rule, "Eat less, Exercise more," can give you the results you want.

The latest false Aladdin's lamp for reducing—a revival of the high fat, low carbohydrate diet—has been studied many times in the past 30 years. Most recently, doctors in London, Copenhagen, and at Columbia University ganged up on the question through experiment and reported these results: Patients gained weight when they were able to tolerate a diet high in fat and low in carbohydrate. Only those who could not eat the diet lost weight. They complained of nausea, huffed and puffed on little exertion, were tired and irritable.

Because fat is not burned completely when a diet furnishes too little carbohydrate, abnormal end-products of fat build up within the body to cause acidosis. For this reason, persons on a high fat, low carbohydrate diet need close medical attention.

For weight control, most doctors pick out the only Aladdin's lamp that works. The magic words, they say:

- Add extra physical activity, each day. A walk may do.
- Eat less of all food. But include, daily—four ounces of lean meat or its alternate, two servings of skim milk or low fat cheese, four servings of enriched or whole grain bread and other cereal foods, four servings of vegetables and unsweetened fruits.

Trout Fishing in Arkansas Is Limited

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A new dimension may be just ahead in the highly publicized, but rather limited, Arkansas trout fishing program.

Trout fishing in the state is almost entirely restricted to the cold water portions of White and Norfolk rivers which flow from beneath Bull Shoals and Norfolk dams. The best of this fishing is in a stretch of about 30 miles of water.

Norfolk dam was completed during World War II and Bull Shoals after the war. Trout were stocked in Norfolk river and it soon became apparent that the young fish grew at a phenomenal rate. Later stockings in White River proved equally successful.

When word circulated that trout weighing more than 10 pounds were being taken in the area, fishing pressure began to mount. It has now reached such a level that a much smaller percentage of trout reach theunker level before they are caught.

However, Andrew Hulse, chief of the fisheries division of the State Game and Fish Commission, has good news for seekers of trophy trout.

Hulse reports that a recent trout stocking experiment in Bull Shoals Lake appears to be "lacking," and there is reason to believe that big trout soon will be available in the reservoir.

"I believe the tanker trout of the future will come from Bull Shoals Lake," Hulse said.

Most big reservoirs have sufficiently cold water at the lower levels to maintain trout life, but usually the water lacks enough oxygen.

Hulse said it appears that the cold water coming from below Table Rock dam, just above the head of Bull Shoals Lake, may gain enough oxygen when it is released to solve this problem.

At any rate, trout weighing up to five pounds have been caught

Statistics Embarrassing to Union

By NORMAN WALKER

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Labor strategists have come up with an embarrassing statistic: Union members outnumber professionals and business executives 2-1 but each group exercises about equal voting power in national elections.

Politically conscious delegates to the United Auto Workers Union convention got this information before they acted to support a drive to add 20 to 30 liberal House members to Congress in the fall elections. President Kennedy made it plain he counts on UAW support for Democrats.

It was Reuther's brother, Roy, head of the UAW Political Action Department, who brought out the worker-executive voting standoff. He told the convention the 1960 union members made up 37 per cent of the voting population but represented only 26 per cent of the votes cast. Executives and professionals making up 18 per cent of the eligible vote cast 26 per cent of the ballots.

Roy Reuther is heading a $1-million drive by the AFL-CIO's 130 affiliated unions to get many thousands more workers registered and voting in this fall's congressional polling. He said on out of three Americans of voting age fail to exercise their ballots. The UAW voted "overwhelmingly approval to an all-out political action resolution Tuesday after hearing Kennedy make a major address. The President remarked that after speaking to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce and to American Medical Association executives he had begun to wonder how he ever got elected.

"Now I remember," Kennedy said upon hearing the UAW's roaring reception. Kennedy skipped an opening line in his prepared text saying he was counting on staunch UAW support in coming legislative and political battles. But the President intimated as much in other passages of his speech.

Caution to Power Mower Operators

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Words of caution for power mower operators and gardeners are subjects with a focus on health.

Beware Power Mowers

There are perhaps some 20 million power lawn mowers in use in the United States—and now with summer and grass cutting season here, power mower owners should beware.

So warn Drs. Erick M. Chazen and John L. Chamberlain III of Vanderbilt University.

They cite cases where power mowers, usually rotary types, catch objects in the lawn and fling them outwards sometimes hitting bystanders, or sometimes the operator of the mower.

There is a local ordinance in Louisville, Ky., making it illegal to employ anyone under the age of 18 to operate a power mower, and similar laws have been proposed in New York, New Jersey and California, the doctors say.

The cause of accidents is sometimes poorly designed mowers, sometimes carelessness by the operator. Removing debris from the lawn before mowing can often prevent accidents.

Lawn Sport

Many kind words have been written about the cool green lawns, the pleasant gardens. But the American Medical Association warns that while it is good exercise to garden, there are also hazards.

In the first place, go at it gradually. Give yourself a chance to get used to strenuous activity after sitting around all winter, if you have been.

Since tetanus germs grow in the soil, especially where barnyard fertilizer is used or farm animals exist, it's wise to get a tetanus is not interested in attracting industry which will exploit its people, Gov. Orval B. Faubus declared today.

Wants No Plant to Exploit People

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas

Faubus made the remark when asked for comments on a U.S. Labor Department survey which showed that the average factory wage in Arkansas is lower than the average in the surrounding states of Oklahoma, Texas and Louisiana.

"I don't think our average wage is lower than surrounding states," Faubus said. "But the state government is not in the price-fixing business. Wage scales are something that has to be worked out between management and labor unions."

City Can Change Marshal's Office

council can change the office of marshal from elective to appointive by passing an ordinance to that effect, the attorney general's office ruled today.

The opinion went to alderman W. B. Smith of Dixie.

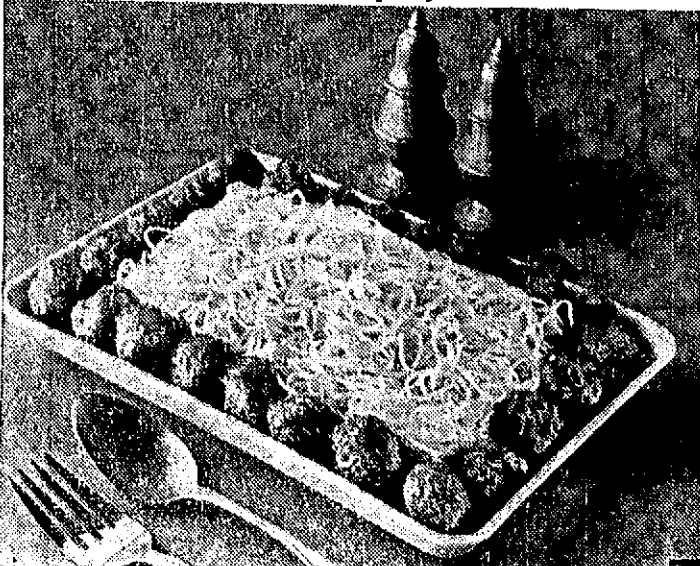

Smith also was told that the council cannot abolish the office of constable since it was set up by the constitution. He was told that write-in votes for the office of constable cannot be permitted in the Democratic primary since no write-in votes are permitted in any primary.

Juicy Meatballs and Spaghetti for Dinner

Meatballs and Spaghetti is a popular dinner dish . . . easy to prepare and easy on the budget, too. To complement the excellent flavors in the sauce, turn your attention to the meatballs. Moist-textured, yet firm is the ideal product developed by the test kitchens of Carnation Company. Evaporated milk makes the difference, insuring the perfect amount of juiciness.

Evaporated milk has a nutrition plus, too . . . so important for your growing family. It has twice the amount of Vitamin D, protein and minerals of whole milk.

MEATBALLS AND SPAGHETTI

- (Makes 4-6 servings)
- 1 pound ground beef
 - 3/4 cup (small can) undiluted evaporated milk
 - 1 teaspoon chili powder
 - 2 teaspoons salt
 - 1/2 cup cracker meal
 - 1/2 tablespoon salad oil
 - 1 can (1 pound) tomatoes
 - 1 can (10 1/2-ounce) tomato puree
 - 1 teaspoon cinnamon
 - 1/2 teaspoon pepper
 - 1 cup finely chopped green pepper
 - Cooked vermicelli or thin spaghetti

Mix beef with evaporated milk, chili powder, and 1 teaspoon salt. Form into 1-inch balls. Coat with cracker meal. Heat oil. Add beef balls and cook over low heat until browned. Combine undrained tomatoes, tomato puree, remaining 1/2 teaspoon salt, cinnamon, pepper and green pepper. Simmer, covered, 10 minutes. Add meatballs and simmer 15 minutes. Serve over cooked vermicelli or spaghetti.

All Ages of Life Have Fine Rewards

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Every age in life has its rewards. Sometimes the truth of this is pretty hard to see—but it is there. The age that many people seem to fear or resent the most is middle age. Its onset brings a kind of panic to them. "I didn't mind being young, and I'm not afraid of being old," a friend waited recently. "But I hate the thought of being caught in between. What possible advantage can there be in being middle-aged?" Well, if a fellow really puts his mind to it, he can find a number of blessings in the mid-span of life. Such as— As your hair gets thinner, you find it takes less and less muscle to comb it. This enables you to conserve your strength for more important tasks. You also find out that the shiner your scalp grows the less discomfort you have. There is no longer much for it to hold on to—or hide behind. Your wife and you get along better and have fewer violent word storms. After all, if you no longer can hear her—and after 45 few men do hear their wives very clearly—how can you disagree with what she says? Her advice comes to have the pleasantly vague sound of ocean surf, endlessly beating on the same old shore. At the office the boss picks on you less and less after you start sporting that 25-year pin in your lapel. When you pull a blooper, he simply sighs and says, "Well, I guess you can't really teach an old dog new tricks." You may not sleep as well as you used to, but you find it easier to get a little rest during the day. As a matter of fact, just being middle-aged makes a man feel so worn out he can take a nap in any posture—even while standing on his head. Medically speaking, you become more and more fascinating to doctor. He dismisses the aches of the young as growing pains and the aches of the elderly as incurable, but any symptom of the middle-aged stirs his active professional interest and sympathy—probably because he is middle-aged himself. Most doctors are. You can now carry an umbrella or don your rubbers on a day of potential showers without feeling cowardly. A sense of proper pro-

Spring Fresh Vegetables on Market

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Treat the family this weekend to the crunch and flavor of the spring-fresh vegetables and fruits now making their way at reasonable prices into the nation's supermarkets. Fresh carrots and radishes, strawberries, watermelon and new potatoes are among the side dish, salad and dessert delights being featured at many stores. Sweet corn, spring onions, squash and salad greens are flowing from early gardens in increasing volume and prices are beginning to show the effect of growing supplies. For main courses, lamb is particularly attractive fare at most markets. Pork trays also offer some good buys. Picnics, loin roasts and chops are widely featured. Lower prices appear on bacon and sausage, and large white eggs are down to 45 cents a dozen in some New York stores. Dairy products continue attractively tagged, with the price of butter still slipping downward. Beef—especially rib, chuck and rump roasts—still carries inviting price tags. Turkeys and broiler-fryers are once again top poultry buys.

1-2-3 Barbecue Sauce

You don't have to be a whiz at mathematics to take one cup of unsulphured molasses and multiply it into the best basic barbecue sauce available. Simply add an equal amount each of prepared mustard and vinegar. The sum total is three cups of a delicious barbecue sauce that can be made ahead of time and stored without benefit of refrigeration. Unsulphured molasses is the plus factor of any barbecue sauce. It aids in browning meats during cooking. Its sweet, distinctive flavor is a perfect contrast to the tart ingredients. Too, unsulphured molasses has the golden-brown color of barbecue sauces and provides the meat with a gleaming, appetizing glaze.

1-2-3 Barbecue Sauce
1 cup unsulphured molasses 1 cup vinegar
1 cup prepared mustard

Combine molasses and mustard, mix thoroughly. Stir in vinegar. Yield: 3 cups. One cup of sauce is sufficient to barbecue 8 broiler-fryer chicken halves, or 2 dozen hamburgers or frankfurters.

Note: For Tomato Barbecue Sauce, add 1 cup catsup or chili sauce to Basic Barbecue Sauce. Yield: 1 quart.

Sealtest Official at CAMPA Hearing

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Charles Detchon, Memphis plant manager for Sealtest Dairy, Inc. was expected to testify here today in a hearing before the Federal Trade Commission on charges against Central Arkansas Milk Producers Association. The FTC has charged that CAMPA conspired to restrain trade and charged discriminatory prices. CAMPA officials have denied the charges. Tuesday Sam Dean, president of the Dean Milk Co. testified as the FTC looked into price differentials it maintains CAMPA allowed the company at its Conway plant but did not give to other processors. The differential was the result of large sales in the Memphis area which placed the mild purchased at Conway under the federal price for the Memphis area. That price was lower than in the Little Rock area. CAMPA contended Dean could have imported milk from anywhere at the Memphis price and that it granted the differential so it would not lose the Dean market for its producers.

teative self-caution is becoming in onmmmmmmg in one at your time of life. Teen-agers pay no attention to you, but then teen-agers don't really pay attention to anybody or anything except another teen-ager of the opposite sex. On the other hand, people over 70 still regard you as young and full of promise. They even envy you. In middle age you abandon all the useless dreams that cluttered your earlier life. You have only one goal left—to grow as old as you can. But there's no hurry about it. You're perfectly willing to take all the time there is in the world.

One For My Dame By JACK WEBB

THE STORY: Rick Jackson tells the police about receiving one of the shoes belonging to a kidnapped girl, Carla DiMucci, and how someone had searched his apartment.

Chapter 10

"You just lied still," Geiser said. "I've called a doctor to come and have a look at you. We may have to ship you back to the hospital for a while."

"No," I said. "I'll be all right. Silly thing to faint."

"Do much of that when you were in the prison camp?"

"No."

"Fractures are a funny thing," the Lieutenant continued. "They don't always show up in an initial x-ray examination. Also, that crease of yours is awfully near a pressure point."

"I'm all right," I said.

"If I had any sense you'd be in the prison ward at the county hospital, you'd be under psychiatric examination, and you'd be subject to a lie detector check. Because you're either the most innocent self-centered oddball I've ever met or the most confounding liar."

"Have it your way," I told him. "Pay your nickel and take your choice. You've talked to all my witnesses. One barks, one chatters, and one says precisely what he's been taught. Next round I'll try to be with people. It won't be as pleasant, but at least you'll have somebody to talk to besides me."

"You were hit in the head," Geiser said. All at once he sounded tired, and I realized he probably hadn't had much sleep in the last couple of days or so. It seemed odd that he should be more concerned with Carla Di-

Mucci's disappearance than I. He hadn't even met her.

After a while the doctor came and allowed me to move from the floor to my bed. I was still there when the experts arrived. They brushed, they powdered, they photographed, and they took my place, my assumed position of safety, apart. Unlike my previous visitors they also showed a great deal of professional attention to detail. What was moved, removed, examined, all went back to the precise position each had occupied, all except three items: the mate to the transparent slipper I had received in the mail, a white doeksin purse with a draw string, and a raggedly torn fragment of expensive yellow material from a sheath that hadn't much to spare. The bit of yellow cloth was from Tina's cage, the purse was from under the sofa, and the shoe had been found caught in the swan's neck of the drainpipe in the cupboard under the kitchen sink.

In less than half an hour they all had been located. Lieutenant Geiser brought each to my bedside. I made the identification positive. It was all I could do, the most and the least. The doctor stopped them finally. He took Geiser aside and whispered. They both watched me.

They put their heads closer together. The Lieutenant seemed to be doing most of the talking. "Under the circumstances . . ." I caught. "Interesting . . ." I heard. "Would it be possible to see his dossier . . ." Each of these bits and pieces from Dr. Coomer, who was half-facing me so that he had to talk toward me for the little he said.

I didn't need to hear more. The circumstances were I'd been a PW; the circumstances were that I was suffering from a head wound that might have been self-inflicted; that I fainted; that I cried; that I had had Carla DiMucci here; and that the taxi driver who had taken her away was dead, even though I'd seen him only briefly I had been able to make a positive identification. I heard this with my third ear, because these were the things Geiser would be saying to force the doctor to take me away and lock me up.

"Dr. Coomer."

He glanced at me as I spoke and Geiser shut up, turning his head to look at me.

"Could I go to the bathroom?"

The Lieutenant started to speak, but Coomer beat him to it. "Of course, Jackson."

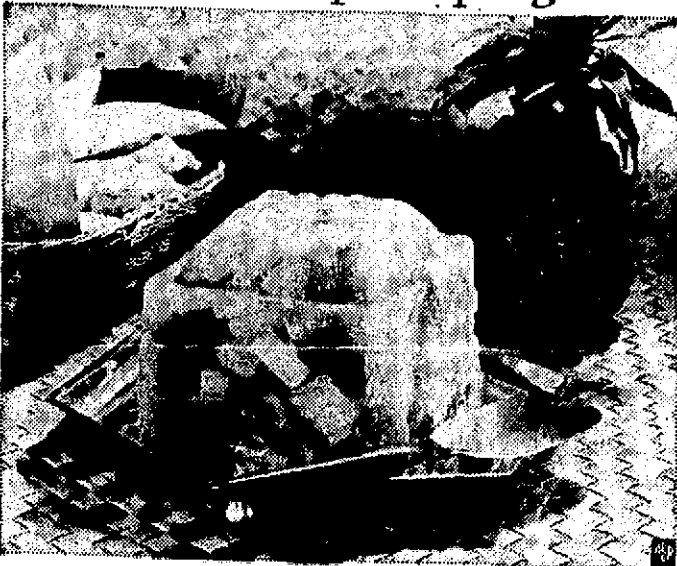

"Thanks," I said. I didn't like what happened to my head when I raised it from the pillow, but I kept moving, and when I was walking, walked steadily enough. I had to pass both of them to get into the bathroom. Easy, Jackson, I thought, easy, easy.

Then I closed the door and stood quietly, working only with the flats of my hands, the force in my wrists and forearms to push the small window up. Then I flushed the bowl and turned on both taps in the wash basin, and stood on the stool to force my head and shoulders through the window.

I did not look down, but side ways to where the corner of the building formed an el, and caught the drain with both hands and hoped it would hold. I was running when Geiser stuck his head out the window and shouted, and I turned the corner out of the service area into the long alley as he fired his first shot. The first 100 yards, I thought.

Rhubarb Spells Spring

Proof of spring is the sight of rose-touched, satiny stalks of fresh rhubarb in the markets. The tingly, vivacious flavor of this pink and pretty fruit makes it a welcome addition to springtime menus.

For a salad that's fresh as Maytime, treat yourself to the jellied beauty, shown here, a tantalizing combination of fresh rhubarb and pineapple. This salad has a refreshingly tangy, delicately sweet flavor that's irresistible. Best of all, weight-watchers can enjoy this springtime treat with a clear conscience. By replacing the sugar normally required with the calorie-free sweetener, Sucaryl calories have been whittled to just 93 per serving, or considerably less than half the salad's usual calorie count.

Rhubarb-Pineapple Salad (Low-Calorie)

4 cups rhubarb, cut into 1-inch pieces
8 teaspoons Sucaryl solution
3 1/2 cups water
8 envelopes (or table)

In saucepan, combine rhubarb, 4 teaspoons of the Sucaryl, and 1 cup water. Cover and simmer until just tender, about 5 minutes; drain and save liquid. Soften gelatin in remaining 1/2 cup water. Drain pineapple, add rhubarb liquid to pineapple liquid, adding water, if necessary, to make 2 1/2 cups. Bring liquid to a boil; add to softened gelatin, stirring to dissolve. Add remaining 4 teaspoons Sucaryl and lemon juice. When mixture begins to thicken, fold in rhubarb and pineapple. Spoon into a lightly oiled 2-quart mold. Chill until set.

Makes 8 servings. Each serving contains 93 CALORIES; 4 grams protein; trace of fat; 20 grams carbohydrate. If made with sugar, each serving would contain 221 CALORIES.

spoons) unflavored gelatin

Now Is Time for Annual Tidying Spree

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—If cleanliness is next to godliness, most people this time of year are rubbing elbows with heaven.

Now is the time when housewives at home and bosses in the office go on their annual spring tidying up spree.

I hate this seasonal emotional bing because it threatens the lifetime of considered disorder I have let pile up on my desk my empire of disarray.

One by one the messengers of order—from back private to vice president—ride up with the query: "Everybody else has cleaned up his desk, so why can't you? Aren't you getting tired of playing the role of an indoor Turk Finn?"

The answer is a firm "No."

The urge to a uniform office cleanliness is just one more form of hysteria in a mad world, a succumbing to universal brainwashing and the fear of being found out to be different.

Any coward can clean off his desk and make it look as anonymous as everybody else's desk. But it takes courage to give your desk the stamp of your identity.

My theory is this: I don't feel like everybody else—or anybody else. Why shouldn't, therefore, my desk share this liberty? Why should it be a shining zero, indistinguishable from the rows of gleaming desks around it?

A desk that is always neat is like a person who always has his hair combed—clean but suspiciously unhuman. What emptiness of dream is all that polished perfection hiding?

A face and a desk so run by reasoning—both should reflect a personality and show a lived-in look.

Naturally this attitude ends up by making a man an unwilling rebel. If you enjoy having a desk that looks like a quarter section of a city dump, you have to fight the forces of office order to keep it that way.

I don't have a sign saying "Think!" on the wall behind me. I have signs saying, "Don't throw it away and 'Beware of creeping cleanliness.'"

My favorite office hero is the late Kansas editor, William Allen White, whose famous rolltop desk was perhaps the most disorderly in the history of American journalism. White's theory was that when a pile of mail became too high and toppled to the floor it was time to pick it up, open the envelopes—and then respond to the letters that really required an answer.

This simple labor-saving device enabled the justly renowned editor to conserve his energy, live in a ripe old age, and write the obituaries or biographies of many of his neater contemporaries.

The trouble with devoting a lifetime to the creation of a truly memorable desk is that when you come to make out your will you have a problem. Who can you leave it to?

Luden Plans to Quit the College Bowl

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Allen Ludden, after two weeks of pondering, came to a painful decision. He will quit "College Bowl" at the end of this season after six years as master-of-ceremonies and stay on with "Password" in its daytime and evening versions.

The decision was forced on Ludden when CBS decided to put the evening edition of "Password" into a Sunday spot next season, separated only by a half-hour from "College Bowl." Sponsor of the latter program felt that, even though "College Bowl" was earlier, the two programs, so close together, might prove a little too much Ludden.

Ludden, who was enthusiastic about his long, happy association with the quiz show, said he "finally decided I should go along with a program that had grown from a daytime game show to a prime-time evening show."

"Password offers scope, and a challenge," he added. "It has turned me into a fulltime performer. Besides, I'd done the other show for a long time, so it wouldn't prove anything much to me if I did another season of it."

"College Bowl is busily sorting out applications for Ludden's replacement. Producer John Cleary said that the host doesn't have to be all brain—the difficult questions can be studied in advance, and the big words in the question are spelled phonetically.

Douglas Edwards, who wanted to be released from his CBS contract when the network pulled him out of his evening news show, must feel better about things now. He will be anchorman in a series "news extras on the network next season—shows which will be CBS adaptation of NBC's successful series of "Instant news specials anchored by Frank McGee during the past year.

Heber Springs Favors Bonds

HEBER SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—

Heber Springs and Cleburne County voters approved Tuesday two bond issues totaling $392,000 for construction of a building to house the U.S. Water Co. of St. Louis, a short manufacturing firm.

County voters approved 1,283 to 124 a $200,000 bond issue to acquire the land and pay for utility lines.

The voters approved 564 to 11 a off over three years with a five mill tax. The company will repay the $350,000 issue through rent.

The $32,000 issue will be paid the $350,000 issue through rent.

Faces Charge in Racial Incident

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dion Diamond, a 20-year-old Negro from Petersburg, Va., faces sentencing at Baton Rouge, La., on May 24 on a charge of disturbing the peace in connection with anti-segregation activities at Southern University.

State Judge Fred LeBlanc convicted Diamond Tuesday.

Martin Harvey, dean of students at the Negro university, testified Diamond held boycott rallies without permission in an attempt to class Jan. 30-31 to protest arrest of student leaders in an anti-segregation demonstration.

The Justice Department asked federal District Court at Shreveport, La., to order the Caddo Parish voter registrar, U. Charles Mitchell, to open his books for inspection by the FBI. Mitchell termed the move harassment.

A federal judge took under advisement a New Orleans School Board request for a new trial on an order extending desegregation to the first six grades in September. In doing so, Judge Frank Ellis let stand a stay he granted last week blocking enforcement of the order pending a decision on a new trial.

In Washington, President Kennedy picked a Negro, Luke Charles Moore, as marshal for the District of Columbia. The 38-year-old Moore has been an assistant U.S. attorney since May, 1959. He is the second Negro to serve as a U.S. marshal in the United States.

Students Petition for Political Rally

PAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—

A group of students at the University of Arkansas has begun a petition campaign to protest the university regents' banning political activity on campus.

Robert G. Hickman, a first-year law student and spokesman for the group, said his group hopes for 2,500 signatures.

Dr. J. W. Green, assistant to the president of the university, told student leaders in a meeting Tuesday that the administration would implement the policy concerning the use of university facilities for speeches by political candidates.

He saw drawing up of an implementation policy would begin this week.

"We feel that freedom of speech has been curtailed," said Hickman, "and we feel that the university campus is the proper place to hear candidates express their viewpoints."

Collision Fatally at Jacksonville

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP)—

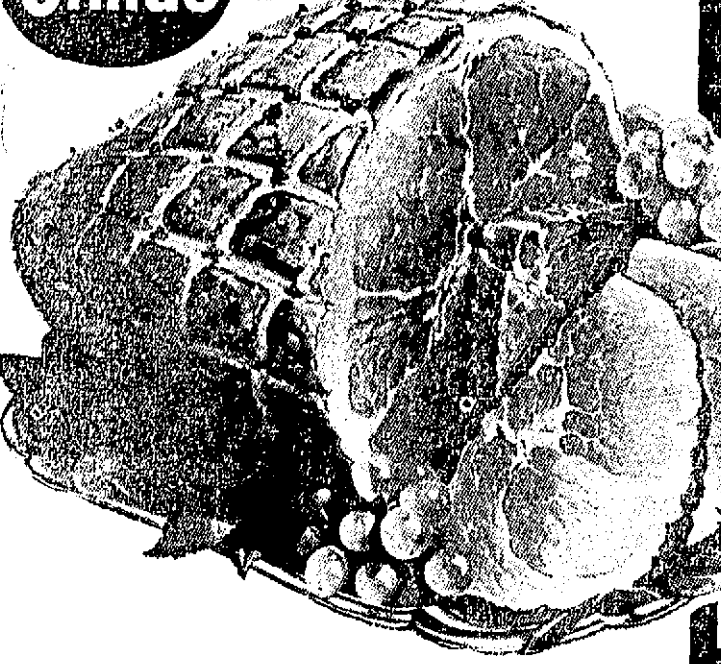

B. H. Simpson, 68, of Jacksonville, was killed on Highway 5 north of here Tuesday when his car collided with a truck.

State Trooper Bill Skipper said Simpson's car collided with a truck driven by Eugene Bridger of North Little Rock. Skipper said Bridger's wife, a passenger in the truck, was slightly injured.

University campus is the proper place to hear candidates express their viewpoints."
